From the Pastor's Desk...

Last month, I had a lot of folk asking my opinion of the situation with the Pope of Roman Catholics world-wide. When the last Pope resigned, folk asked what I thought, they asked about speculation of who would be the next Pope, and once the conclave had resulted in a new Pope taking the name of the beloved St. Francis, they again wanted to hear my thoughts. But realistically, there was not much that I could offer.

It's a bit like asking the backup quarterback for the Bengals what he thinks of the starting line-up for the Reds this spring. Sure, football and baseball are both sports, but they are so very different. The athletes train and play so very differently, that although they're both in the sports field, they don't have very much in common. Some times it can seem that way between Catholics and Protestants, especially those of the progressive Christian variety, like the United Church of Christ.

While all Christians believe in the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and celebrate worship and sacraments in common ways, both in theology and polity there can be vast differences. In the Roman Church, the priest presides over the sacraments, and is viewed as the primary interpreter of God's will and way in local congregations, listening to confessions and providing absolution on behalf of God. The hierarchy of that church is such that the Pope speaks for the whole of the world-wide Catholic Church, and when speaking ex cathedra (or on solemn doctrinal matters) is viewed as infallible, therefore speaking for God. Authority, then in the R.C. church is viewed as top down, the Pope dictating to Cardinals, Cardinals to Arch-bishops and then on down to priests and congregations, which they see rooted in Jesus telling Peter that he holds the 'keys of the kingdom,' and God will build his church upon Peter, as supreme witness.

Of course, we were all Catholics once, the world itself means "universal," which is why some Protestants altered the words in the Apostolic Creed to say "the one holy universal church" rather than use the word "catholic." But with Martin Luther and the rest of the Reformers there was a break and Protestant expressions came into being, often in response to excesses and misuse of power in the Catholic Church, specifically the selling of indulgencies, papers that promised the buyer that their relatives would not suffer in purgatory but move on to be reunited with God and loved ones in heaven. Luther, reading the message of radical grace in the letter of the Romans and throughout scripture, saw such practices as exploitation of the innocent and trusting masses.

While Protestant ideas varied from region to region, taking many shapes and forms, the traditional understanding of the Reformation moved from confidence in the authoritarian structures, rites and rituals that empowered priests to rule over others, to an understanding of the "priesthood of all believers." Under Luther and others, regular Christian believers were to be trusted to read and understand the Scriptures for themselves, an innovation made newly possible by the invention of the printing press. No longer would the Latin Mass confound the common Christian but the texts and sermons would be available in the vernacular, the everyday language of the people.

So, in Protestant circles, the authority to seek and follow God's will came to rest on individuals as they wrestled with the Scriptures in their local congregations, with claims that Jesus Christ was the only head of the church. And if that sounds to you like a way to say that we don't answer to the Pope, you'd be correct. Protestants of the Reformation in the tradition of the United Church of Christ then, celebrate our unity with all Christians everywhere, but never suggest that this unity is based on conformity of beliefs, as we embrace the idea of doctrinal freedom for individuals and congregations. Our congregations function with a high level of autonomy, held in check by a sense of covenant that binds us in the UCC into relationships with other congregations at the Assoc., Conference and National level. Yet our democratically chosen judicatory bodies have to run a delicate balance since they do not speak "for" us, but rather speak "to" us.

Each local congregation in our polity, calls its own minister, who is often described as "pastor and teacher," rather than priest. (Not to mention that we now allow those called to be ministers to marry and offer ordination to women as well as folk from the LGBT community, when they fulfill the same standards of fitness and preparation that we require of straight men.)

All of the decisions and property of a congregation depend on the membership to decide together how things should be handled, it is not the work of a Bishop or Diocesan board to tell a congregation how they will come together in worship, mission and witness. And, in true Reformation tradition, "each generation is responsible for rethinking its beliefs, as God's word unfolds and conditions change."

All of which can make for a messy system of church governance and decision making, or as one of the early UCC leaders once described, it is a "heady and exasperating mix." Each one of us has a right to come to our own opinion, and yet we are to listen to one another in prayerful discernment about how and what God is calling us to be and do. So, while some emphasize our independence ("no one can tell us what to believe or do!"), our system places a greater responsibility on each of us to pull our weight, to spend time in prayerful reflection on the scriptures and the leading of God's Spirit. If we're to live out faithfully Paul's commendation to the church in Philippi, we're going to have to "work out our salvation together, for God is at work within us."

So truth be told, thus far, I'm pleased that the new Pope has embraced the name Francis, that he has historically identified with the poor and working classes, and carried that into his new position at the head of the Catholic Church by choosing to live in a more modest apartment and washing the feet of young prisoners. I hope for my Catholic friends, that under his leadership the Church continues the movement that was Vatican II, that he works to improve the lot of women in the church and society world wide, and shows greater openness to contraception and inclusion in the church, while toughening the church's response to pedophiles and rascals in clerical life.

But, I'm a happy Protestant, a progressive Christian, and the Pope does not and never will speak for me. In our tradition, we honor theological dialogue and value ecumenism and interfaith conversation, but that means we also affirm our unique values and hard-won spiritual freedoms and liberty. Seeking to walk in the footsteps of Christ, we strive to offer an extravagant welcome to all who would come, and to embody a graceful engagement and radical inclusivity to all we encounter, for that is how we see Jesus respond to those in his time.

Sometimes folk tell me they have a problem with "organized religion," usually referring to some priest or preacher who told them how they had to think or act or tithe or whatever. I like to fall back on that old Will Rogers joke which he told about the Democrats. I say, "Oh, I'm not a member of an organized religion; I'm a member of the United Church of Christ."

Your pastor & friend,
Brian Q. Newcomb

PS: Rev. Newcomb will be on vacation following Easter services, returning to attend worship on April 7, Youth Sunday, which will be led by Pastor Daria and the young people of David's Church. If you have a pastoral concern, please contact Rev. Daria. You can reach her in the office during normal office hours (9-5 M-F), or after hours on her cell phone at (937) 776-0378.

Notes from Rev. Daria

April is upon us, and with it, crocuses, daffodil shoots, and hope! It's been a very snowy winter and we are all, no doubt, ready for spring truly to show her colors in our neighborhood. The message of Easter is hope and we are now challenged to live in the kind of hope that is often mistaken by the world for foolishness. We are challenged to believe that love is, indeed, stronger than hate, that light really does overcome darkness, that the pettiness and infighting so common in our culture, the warring of the nations, will truly be overcome by this God who went to such great lengths to make a firm statement that violence is not the final answer, that cruelty does not have the last word, that true power lies in having power with one another rather than enjoying power over the weaker ones. God is recreating the physical world, bringing trees into exuberations of blossoms and sending baby animals from their mama's wombs into the wider world, and we assist by getting out into the garden, digging in the dirt and setting vegetables to feed our families and communities. So are we called to be co-creators of the kingdom of heaven, this earth reworked into the image God has fixed as our final destination, a place where love is the law and we are delighted to hold to it, a place where justice reigns and all are held equal in relationship. I believe it can and will come about, perhaps not in my lifetime, but as surely as I believe the sun will rise each morning. One of my attempts to move toward this new world, more in line with God's vision, is to refrain from condemning, complaining, or criticizing. It's not easy, but it's a small thing I can try to help spread the light Christ exemplifies. Please let me know if you catch me slipping up!

Part of the way we co-create this new heaven on a new earth is by raising our children and youth to believe this is truly the way forward, by empowering them as co-creators, co-conspirators, and giving them the tools to live a life modeled after Christ's teachings. Here at David's, and in the wider church, and in all kinds of communities, both spiritual and secular, we are indeed teaching our young people that they are valuable to this grand plan of God's. One of the ways in which we honor and teach our youth here at this church is to celebrate Youth Sunday. We'll be celebrating on April 7th, as well as honoring our graduates, and hope you will enjoy the service we have prepared this year! One aspect, in particular, of the service that I hope you will take seriously is a challenge the youth wish to offer the congregation. You'll hear more on the 7th, but if you can't be there and want to know all about the challenge, please do come see me during Coffee Shop Hours on April 3rd and 10th at Panera in Centerville and I will make sure you get the scoop!

I will not be around much of April and there will be no Coffee Shop Hours the 17th or 24th, as Jeannene and I will be on vacation in Florida the 17th and I will be having surgery the 25th and thus will spend the 24th getting my life in order for recovery. This will affect Coffee Shop Hours on May 1st, as well, and possibly the 8th, as my recovery period is 2 weeks. With all the very serious illness that's been around lately, I want to assure you all that I am fine. I've been contending with fibroid tumors since my mid-20s, had surgery in 1999 to solve the problem temporarily, and am now ready to vanquish them once for all. So, I am electing to have a hysterectomy. My surgeon is stellar and I am not worried. But, I want to honor my body's need for recovery, so I will not be pushing to return early. I hope to be able to attend the Confirmation Dinner and the Rite of Confirmation, as these kids are so important to me and have worked hard to learn what they need to know in order to become members of David's Church. I so much want to be here to honor that accomplishment in person.

Another accomplishment I am excited about is the increasing numbers of campers we are sending to the Hills each summer! I am thrilled that, thanks to the generosity of David's members, we can offer to pay 50% of the cost of camp. If you haven't had the chance to contribute and wish to be a campership benefactor, you can drop a check off to the church office or drop it in the Sunday plate with a notation reading "camperships" in the memo space. Thanks to the generosity of Outdoor Ministries, and my friend, program director David Zerby in particular, I am very pleased to announce a special Let's Go To Camp! Celebration for Family@5 on April 7th at 5 p.m. in Fellowship Hall! Staff members of Outdoor Ministries will journey from the Hills to present an evening of camp games, crafts, and fun! We'll start with a potluck supper of favorite summer foods, so bring a dish to share. This is a great chance to get a feel for our Ohio Conference camps and interact with staff! Don't miss it!

The Spiritual Parenting Group will meet at 4 p.m. the same day for discussion and support. If you plan to attend and need childcare, please let me know no later than April 4th. Also important for families to know in April is that the Board of Christian Education will be hosting a gathering for parents, grandparents, and interested adults to discuss how family, children's, and youth programming are going at David's. We will be happy to answer questions and hope for some good feedback on what is working, what could be better, and what your visions and dreams for the future are. Please plan to stay following Second Service on April 14th. We will meet in the Conference Room and there will be Kids' Club so you can relax and know your kids are in good hands while we plan their futures at David's.

Women Exploring Faith are busy planning the future of the large-C Church as we read and discuss Robin Meyers' The Underground Church. All women are invited to join the conspiracy to help with the inbreaking of the kingdom of heaven. We meet next at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 10th, to discuss chapter 8, "Jesus Followers on the No-Fly List." Women from David's and beyond are also invited to be part of the Women's Spirituality Group's exploration of The Artist's Way by Julia Cameron. If Morning Pages, Artist Dates, and various and sundry other spiritual and creative growth exercises sound intriguing, please join us at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, April 22nd in the Confirmation Room! We'd love to hear your ideas!

May your April be full of spring delights!

Blessings,

Rev. Daria

Adult Education

April 7 – The internet provides a wealth of opportunities to gather and share information. While being an amazing resource, there are dangers that exist on the internet, especially for our children. The WISE (Webbies Internet Safety Education) Program, through the Montgomery County office of the Prosecuting Attorney, helps educate all members of our community on the importance of being safe on the internet. Please join us on Sunday, April 7 to hear Beth Appleton from the WISE program discuss important internet safety tips.

April 14 – In the summer of 2012, Matt Green, along with 10 other Wright State students and Alumni, journeyed to Durban, South Africa. Their objective was to run a two-week youth leadership seminar for learners from a few area high schools. Matt and the others succeeded and brought home an experience of a lifetime.

April 21 & April 28 – Bread For the World Offering Of Letters (see article below).

Offering of Letters to Fight Hunger

Join us to put faith into action. On Sunday, April 28, 2013, Adult Ed. and Mission Board are conducting a Bread for the World Offering of Letters in Fellowship Hall during Second Hour. We will ask our president and members of Congress to create pathways out of hunger and poverty.

This year's campaign, "A Place at the Table" aims to realize a world in which all of God's children are fed. You may get the letter-writing information on Sunday, April 21st during Second Hour if you want to write at home and bring your letters to church on April 28th. We have enough food to feed everyone, now we need to political will to make it happen.

Betsy Keyes

Attention Keenagers

Let's tiptoe through the tulips and celebrate our third birthday on Wednesday, April 10. We will repeat our very first entree (you did come back, after all!), a Chinese chicken dish with sherry. Of course, there will be a salad and rolls to complete the meal and cake and ice cream for dessert. We'll do a few rounds of Bingo (real prizes) and have a couple of guessing games. All we need is the guest of honor. Hoping YOU will be there.

Parents' Meeting

April 14, after the second service, in the conference room, there will be a meeting with parents, Christian Education board members and Rev. Daria. We will discuss the Christian Education program, Sunday morning, Family @5, youth programming, etc. Bring your thoughts, ideas and concerns. There is Kid's Club for children who are not involved in music, in the 4th-6th grade classroom.

Acclaimed Singer/Songwriter Bill Mallonee returns for intimate concert at David's UCC on Friday, April 26 at 7:30 pm.

Paste Magazine, a few years back, named Bill Mallonee number 65 in their “100 Greatest Living Songwriters Poll.” Billboard Magazine described Bill’s music this way: “(Bob) Dylan-tinged vocal and introspective lyrics that spin-out big picture stories imbued with chilling small details.” And RollingStone Magazine wrote that “Bill Mallonee [has] remained fascinated with the shadowy emotional toils and struggles inherent in the American experience. Compelling and insightful, [he] continues to probe through Americana rock and roll proving that sometimes the only story worth telling is that of the journey.”

Pastor Brian met Bill over 20 years ago, when Bill was fronting the band Vigilantes of Love out of Athens, GA. “Real Down Town” was getting college radio airplay and everybody thought they were destined to be rock stars. VoL signed to Capricorn Records for a couple releases, went through some personnel changes, and in 1996 toured the nation with the band Over the Rhine, including a show in the church basement where Rev. Newcomb served back in St. Louis. Pastor Brian brought Bill to David’s for a concert a couple years back.

A prolific songwriter/recording artist, Bill has produced 50 full length recording projects (many available by digital download at billmalloneemusic.bandcamp.com) over the years, including two new CDs, “The Power & The Glory” and “Amber Waves” (read Paste’s review here:

<http://www.pastemagazine.com/articles/2012/12/bill-mallonee-amber-waves.html>).

These days, Bill tours with his wife Muriah Rose on piano and backing vocals, playing house concerts, coffee shops, cafes and bars. Tickets will be $12 in advance/$15 at the door and day of show, available at the church office. If we sell only a few tickets, we’re going to set up an intimate “living room” like space in the narthex, if we pre-sell over 30 we’ll move into the sanctuary.

Make an Investment in Our Youth

With the Confirmation Pilgrimage to Atlanta approaching, you have an exciting opportunity to “invest” in the trip. For $10 a share, you can become a stockholder in our Confirmation Pilgrimage. All stockholders will receive a postcard from pilgrimage participants while in Atlanta and an invitation to the Stockholder’s Luncheon set for later in the summer. You will receive the satisfaction of knowing your investment will reap spiritual returns for a lifetime. Please contact any confirmand to begin your investment portfolio!

Graduation Recognition

David's has designated Sunday, April 7 as the day to honor those in our congregation, young and old, high school, college, or specialized program who are about to graduate or who have graduated since our last recognition. Please call the church office or email Chris at chriswood@davidsucc.org to give us this vital information so that you or someone you know will be included.

Keeping The Promise

The Keeping The Promise committee continues to research quotes for all the work to be done with plans to keep the congregation in the loop through information posted in Fellowship Hall including the thermometer which tracks contributions to the campaign.

As of this writing, David's has raised $71,000 for Keeping The Promise!!! We're appreciative to Women's Activity Guild who contributed $24,000 and the Bazaar who has given $25,000 and to all who have chosen to support this project to repair and renovate our beautiful facility and plan for the future.

We hope you'll all prayerfully consider your support of Keeping The Promise!

Spring Clean-Up at David's

April showers bring. . . spring clean-up at David's!! The Trustees would like to invite everyone to come get their hands dirty for the first time this spring. On April 13, we'll be mulching, cleaning up beds and getting the place spruced up. Gardening tools are not necessary but are appreciated. We'll begin around 9:30 a.m.

Warm Wishes

Spring is here at long last. Warm Wishes was very busy over the past year and set a record on deliveries. We delivered 3295 items to the homeless, less fortunate and patients undergoing chemotherapy. That was 624 items more than we had delivered the previous year.

Deliveries went to Mercy Manor, YWCA (Artemis), Daybreak, House of Bread, North Dayton School of Discovery, Rosa Parks School, Hospice of Dayton, St Paul's Church, Gateway/St Vincent, Gospel Mission, Kettering's Greenmont Elementary, Shoes for the Shoeless and 2 of David's members.

One of our new receivers is Shoes for the Shoeless. A Kettering woman started this project just a couple of years ago. She is servicing Dayton Metropolitan Area children with shoes. She goes to the various schools and fits the children with new shoes. She is servicing 4000 children. We gave her 129 hats and 172 scarves crocheted by Jeanette Richardson. She reported back that the children were thrilled. We also picked up Greenmont Elementary School in Kettering where there is a great need.

While we are not fully able to meet the need, we hope we are making a significant dent and helping as many as we can. The Mission Board has been very generous in supporting this program. We have also received many donations from members and friends of the church. We have sold some of our items at the church bazaar. We can custom make hats, scarves and mittens for your giving needs. The proceeds from our sales will buy more supplies. We try to be good stewards of your money by watching for sales. Fleece is costing $8.99 to $10.99 per yard. We make large purchases around Christmas and President's day when we can get it for $2.99 to $3.99 per yard. Also some of our participants watch for yard sales and any in store clearance sales. The fleece is washed and used. We waste very little using leftovers for our famous scrap hats.

We have a special hat we make for cancer patients that have lost their hair. The hats have only one seam and are very warm. We take these to Hospice and have given a couple to people in the David's family. If you have a loved one that could benefit from one of these hats please let Roselyn Faulkner (433-8832) or Nedral Gockel (416-4164) know.

We sew year around in order to have items ready to go when it gets cold. There is a job for everyone. Please join us any Monday morning from 9:30 AM to noon in fellowship hall. We cannot deliver all that are requested without more hands to help.

I finally want to thank Marilyn Cartwright and Dottie Bitzer for starting this project in 2004. Since that time we have delivered 16384 items. God bless all that have helped.

Nedral Gockel

Have You Read The Green Book?

If you are coordinating an event at David's church such as the birthday celebration at Trinity, the Easter Egg Hunt, summer church picnics, Interfaith Thanksgiving Reception, ice cream social and many more events you should read The Green Book. It has pertinent information shared by people who previously coordinated these events. Please add your suggestions to the form to help others in the future. The Green Book is located in the office.

Rummage Sale Coming Soon!

Have you started spring cleaning yet? Ready to donate good, clean, working items you just don't need anymore to the Rummage Sale?

On the 7 and 14 of July, you can bring items between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. During the week, items will be received in Fellowship Hall during church office hours – 9 to 5. Evening drop off times will be announced or call Debbie McCoy (299-9218). If you're going to be gone during the time donations are being received, please arrange for a friend or relative to bring your items to the church or arrange for them to call Debbie McCoy and arrange pick up. We will continue to receive donations till NOON on Wednesday, July 17 with the Annual Sale to be held Friday, July 19 and Saturday, July 20. Proceeds from this sale will go to Women's Activity Guild (WAG) who disperses funds for Mission Projects, Building Improvements, and more.
